Leave Policy

Fictional training document for the HR Policy Assistant RAG project.

Casual Leave

• Employees are entitled to 12 casual leaves per calendar year.

• Casual leave is intended for personal work, urgent matters, and short-term personal requirements.

• Employees may normally take a maximum of 2 consecutive casual leave days at a time.

• Employees should apply for casual leave through the employee portal before taking leave whenever possible.

• In emergencies, the employee should inform their reporting manager as soon as possible.

• Unused casual leave cannot be converted into cash at the end of the year.

Sick Leave

• Employees are entitled to 10 sick leave days per calendar year.

• Sick leave may be taken when an employee is unable to work because of illness or a medical condition.

• For sick leave of more than 2 consecutive working days, the employee may be required to provide a medical certificate.

• Employees should inform their reporting manager as soon as possible when taking sick leave.

Earned Leave

• Employees are entitled to 15 earned leave days per calendar year.

• Earned leave should normally be requested at least 7 days before the planned leave date.

• Earned leave may be carried forward to the following year subject to the company's applicable leave rules.

• Employees should obtain approval from their reporting manager before taking planned earned leave.

Leave Approval

• Submitting a leave request does not automatically mean that the leave has been approved.

• Leave approval depends on manager approval and business requirements.

• Employees should check the status of their request through the employee portal.

• If an employee has a question about a rejected leave request, they should contact their reporting manager or HR department.
